

COBIE 101 session 1. introduction

audience

this course is for public government officials and business partners who need to understand how COBIE is implemented on their contracts.

prerequisite

there are no prerequisites for this session

objective

this session introduces the topics covered in the COBIE 101 course

● ● ● | how can designers deliver “pre-built” building information before construction begins?

what role do construction submittals play in the construction handover?

can we eliminate the reproduction cost for thousands of pages of paper files?

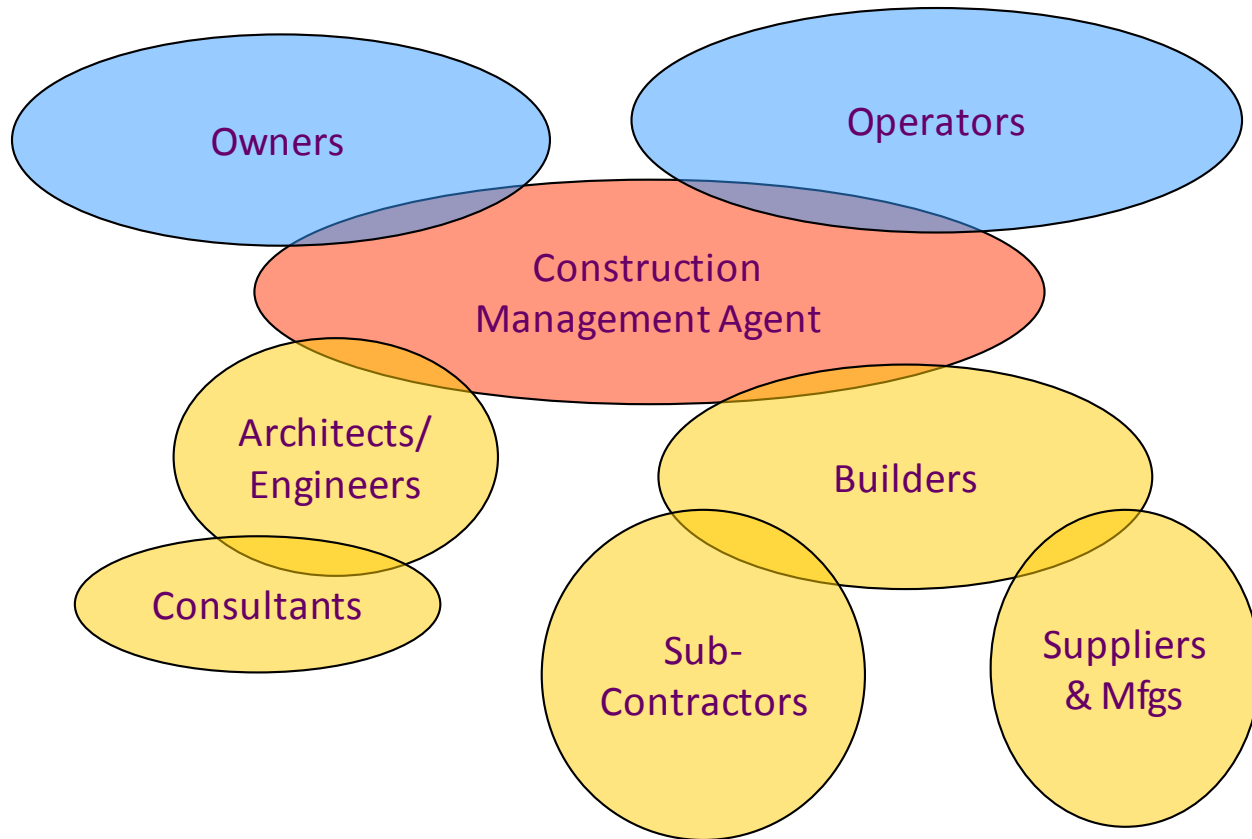

● ● ● | how can builders provide project handover information at a fraction today's cost?

can current software to be used to delivery electronic handover information?

how can all project partners leverage their current software to provide these benefits?

COBIE 101 session 1. introduction

this session

introduced the topics covered in the COBIE 101 course

next session

introduces performance-based information delivery